There are various reasons why home based business ventures are not in a commercial space, and a home occupation is the best solution. However, the primary purpose of the home must remain as a residence. The business must be operated by a resident of the dwelling, and will always be secondary to home occupation.

A home-based business (or home occupation) is a small-scale occupation, service, profession or enterprise that operates out of a dwelling unit in a residential neighborhood with little or no effect on the surrounding neighborhood.

Home occupation regulations allow residents to own businesses or work from home while ensuring that there is no detriment to property character, livability and value of the surrounding homes and subdivision.

The City of Peoria wants to support people who work from their home. However, we also want to make sure that home based occupations do not negatively impact neighbors or residential areas.
